You said you wanted to talk to me after Graduation Ceremony...

...Wait, why are you undressed!?

This is... because I want to do it with you.

Don't act like it's obvious!

Huh... When you grow up, you'll date me... right...?

Not that promise!

Brother... You don't remember our promise, do you?

I knew it...

She might have said something like that...

Ah...

That you'd make me your girlfriend once I graduated from here.

The promise we made when I was in elementary school...

These past three years... I've tried to get your attention so many times...

But today, I just can't hold back my feelings.

Itoko...

No way~ You were crying during the graduation ceremony?

Shut up~ It's fine, isn't it?

!!

That was close.

Phew.

Nothing... I guess I was imagining things.

What's up?

If they'd found us, graduation would be the least of our worries...

I made her wait over ten years...

I need to finally be honest with my own feelings...

...You're right... Itoko's grown up enough now...

But... From now on, we can be together without worrying about anyone seeing us.
