

Unaware Serving

Full version available on Fanbox and Ifadian

 www.pixiv.net/users/68396841

 www.deviantart.com/myoffice

 Twitter:@David96054182

This morning...

With half awoken, I merely heard master's voice

Suddenly, I felt the world spinning around me, then fall down quickly. Master's socks, also my bed, had already been taken out. She is on a phone call, and ignores my existence...

After her word, the light above me suddenly disappeared. A giant foot with pure-white sock reached inside!!

At a sudden, I just feel like a truck got me crushed under, all my body is going to break down into small pieces, with no room for breath.

Master finally aware of my existence. I felt my body is shrieking continuously, and finally some room for a short break.

With the barrier of thick socks, I can feel my position is now under master's big toe, gives me wider space to breathe.

Master stood up, her weight now lift on front foot for a bit more. Her toes now pressured on my body quite deep, but not enough for crush me alive. Such disgrace! After several minutes, the weight on my body relieved. I guess she is going to start driving, with her foot on brake pedal.

The sound of ignition fully breaks the silence around. I can't help but accelerate my heart beating. All my breath in-and-out is fully with master's foot scent. She released the brake and press on accelerator. Ma! I just relieved and tumbling under her sole.

