

D VS N

chapter 7

I didn't get much sleep last night, that dream shook me to my core. I can't stop thinking of it, it felt so real to me. This dream, is it my subconscious warning me of things to come? I must learn more, I can't let anyone else be in danger in this village! I must act now!

I packed up my belongings into my bag, and descended the stairs to the ground floor. There seems to be no one in the inn, where did everyone go? I don't even see the owner!

Ah, Sister Dorothea, what a coincidence, good morning!

I had just walked out the door of the inn when I met Mr. Zimmer, who was on his way to collect wood. He thanked me again, he was in much better spirits now, the exorcism had worked well. I couldn't help but smile as he looked at me with a slightly mesmerized look in his eyes, perhaps still reveling in last night's exorcism.

I explained to him that I had a feeling in my gut that something was still wrong in the village. Unable to place what it was, I asked if anything else strange was happening in the village.

Mr. Zimmer sighed and told me about what happened in the village.

The village is on the Cranach family's territory, and up until a year ago everyone lived a quiet and peaceful life. One day, a servant from the Cranach's castle came to the village. The lord's castle was being expanded and the servant informed the village they must provide a dozen villagers to assist the lord. Ever since those villagers went to the castle, they have never been seen since. A month later a handful of villagers left for the castle to ask about their friends, and even those people haven't been seen since.

During the past year, people in black robes were sometimes seen lurking in the village late at night, and every time they were spotted, a villager would start acting strange the following morning. This behavior was similar to the way Mr. Zimmer had acted: dazed, impulsive and irritable, and would constantly crave sex.

If you want to get to the castle, you must go through the forest past the village wall over there. Please be careful Sister Dorothea, it has been a long time since anyone has walked that path, and I am unsure if it will be dangerous.

Thank you for telling me all this, Mr. Zimmer. And finally I would like to ask how to get to the castle?

At this moment, in Lilith Cranach's castle...

*Taste this!
You little bitch!*

Iron Horse

Holes for the nipples to connect to rope.

One of Lilith's torture devices used to punish disobedient servants. The servant will be strapped into the device to receive various punishments, and Lilith's favorite punishment is to use a whip to punish their ass.

This space is left open so a hand can easily access the servant's genitals. Lilith has devised countless punishments she enjoys inflicting on her disobedient servants.

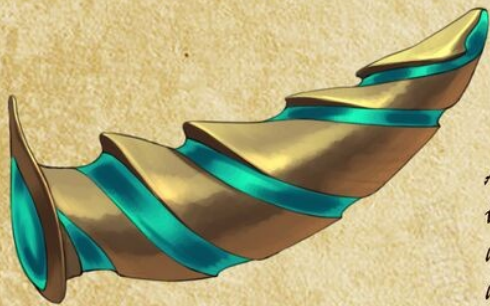

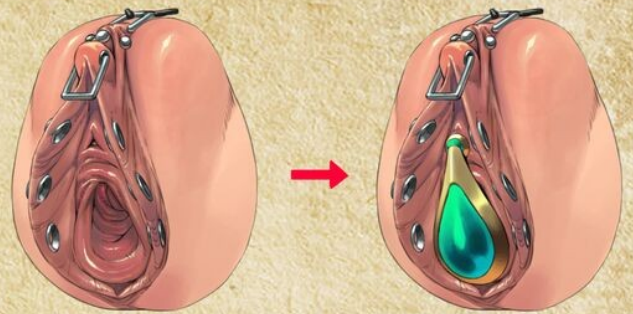

The ropes on the nipple rings are attached to the handcuffs, and when the disobedient servant is stimulated, the nipples stretch with the flexing of the arms.

Anal plug

urethral plug

Vaginal plug

All of Lilith's instruments and devices are designed to resemble a serpent.

After the two plugs are inserted, three rings are used to seal the labia shut.

The Peephole

This torture device is used to expand the anus. After being inserted into the anus, the four barbs around the edge of the device catch on the walls of the rectum to prevent the instrument from coming out. Through this device, the inside of the punished person's anus is visible.

Counterweight

The counterweight comes in different sizes and different weights. The weights must be used in conjunction with anchor points, such as hooked on a piercing or chain. Often used on nipples, the labia, and the clitoris.

Clitoris Cage

A torture device used to punish the clitoris. After the punished person's clitoris has been elongated by the weight of the counterweight, a ring-shaped device is fixed to the base of the clitoris, and a cage-shaped device is fixed to the tip of the clitoris. Like an iron maiden, the metal spikes in the device are coated with a potion that causes the punished person to go into heat and itch.

Look at these lively little guys! They must be eager to get inside you!

My Lord! I am sorry to disturb you. Your Crow you sent to spy on the nun has returned.

Just in time. Send her to me now!

You put this little bitch in the Iron Maiden! Let her reflect on her mistake!

My Lord, everything is going according to your plan. The nun is drawing closer to the castle; she entered the forest not long ago.

You did a splendid job. I knew she would come. The darker the presence she senses, the more compelled she is to approach it. She is rapidly approaching my trap, so you can stand down for now.

Ah! Brave Dorothea, I can't wait to meet you! Hahahaha...

Crow

Lilith's scouting squad, Same as the charming viper team, are part of Lilith's escort. Their rigorous training makes it easy for them to sneak in where they want to go, and they are loyal to Lilith.

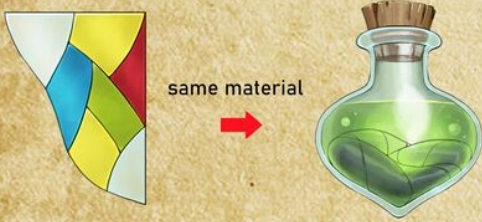

Since Lilith began serving demons, they have taken their loyalty with their master and become cultists. Now their excellent scouting skills are being used to spread the demon plague into the world.

Their dress and appearance in the past.

Demonic worms

These worms are the cause of the villagers' madness. They parasitize the human body to continuously suck spirits. The parasitized person will slowly lose his or her mind and eventually become a tool for the demon to collect spirits. But if the host's body can't take it, they will leave after the host's soul dries up.

They are usually carried in glass bottles. And the glasses are same as the church glasses.

These glass bottles have the ability to suppress the demonic worms' demonic abilities. Once they leave the bottle, they will regain their power and seek out their prey.

Combined together, they can mimic any creature or turn into giant demons.

These demonic worms originate from the body of Satan, the queen of demons. These little worms start out as Satan's unholy sperm.

Satan will ejaculate huge amounts of semen every day. After ejaculating her semen, it is collected by demon lords and brought to their followers. These tiny worms will become powerful weapons for Satan to rule the earth and harvest souls.

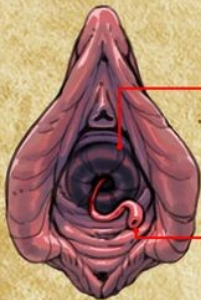

Demonic worms start out as the size of a matchstick, and as they continue to feed on the soul energy of their hosts, they grow to the size of an adults' outstretched hand. In the process of maturing, they will grow in size, as well as change appearance and organs. Some demonic worms will grow sharp barbs while others will develop eyes that cover their skin. Although every worm has a unique appearance, they all share the ability to combine together to become larger and more powerful. Their ability to combine has no limit, and if no one stops them, they become unstoppable behemoths.

When a demon worm parasitizes a woman's uterus, the worm's mouth will reform and latch onto the cervix. When a male has sex with this host, the worm's tongue is inserted into the male's urethra and the larvae are released into the male.

If the parasite host is male, the demon worm stays in their bladder. Whenever they have sex with a woman, the larvae of the demon worm are ejected into her body along with the man's semen.

Skin of the demon worm, mimicking the appearance of the cervix.

Demon Worm's Tongue (spreads worm larvae)

A woman who is parasitized by a demon worm will have an enlarged clitoris and a swollen labia, and are always eager to engage in intercourse.

Their penis also changes as a result of the demon worm. Some male penises will grow barbs, while others will split into many tentacles.

Transformation

Teligrith (Satan's Throne)

When Satan violently ejaculated for the first time, the demon worm she shot from her newly formed penis was larger than any other worm she would ever create. This first unholy creation Satan named Teligrith, the king of worms. Shortly after its birth, Satan, who was formerly known as the archangel Ariella, was cast out of Titalius along with her worm Teligrith.

Unlike ordinary demon worms, it has a unique appearance and special characteristics. While other worms need to merge together to grow larger, Teligrith's size and power is determined by how powerful Satan is. Sharing a special connection with Satan, its size and power over time continues to grow as Satan's power grows.

As Satan's most powerful creature in all of Lusigoth, it faithfully serves and protects its master from harm. If anyone is foolish enough to challenge Satan, Teligrith will kill them with its terrifying power.

The worm's throne-like portion of the body is only a small part of the massive worm, with the rest of the body buried under the surface to conceal its true strength. Another distinctive feature of Teligrith is its unrivaled ability to satisfy both Satan's penis and anus simultaneously. When Satan sits on her throne, she can experience constant stimulation allowing endless pleasure. This stimulation on the throne causes her to continually ejaculate, which results in thousands of new demon worms every day.

These two huge tentacles extend from two fleshy cavities which serve to stimulate Satan. One tentacle is inserted into Satan's anus to twist indiscriminately, and the other is responsible for massaging Satan's enormous penis. With both tentacles pleasuring Satan, the stimulation is so immense that Satan will climax and start to continually ejaculate within seconds.

Back to Doro, at this moment, she is walking through the forest...

It's so dark, the leaves are completely blocking the sunlight, as if it was daytime and now it's nighttime, I have to be careful...

After following the path carefully through the forest for some time, Doro came to a fork in the road. As she was debating whether she should go left or right, she noticed something on the ground just ahead of her. In front of her was a puddle which reflected the faint light from her torch. As she crouched down to inspect it, she accidentally stepped into it.

It's...
