Well, I guess a bit of sweet is okay after some bitterness. I mean my Shimaji TL, of course. Chinzuriina doesn't disappoint in this one; speaking of both the trap and the absurdly cute dialogue spewing forth from its mouth. Seriously. That last "I wuuuvv you" line is actually a pretty accurate TL of what he said. Hell, even the little bunny hair piece changes expressions! How moe can you get?!

Anyway, the TL for this was surprisingly irritating. There were several lines that were completely in kana, which is annoying for me, because then you have to pronounce every single thing in your head (or out loud, if you want) like a fucking 3rd grader to know what the word is. That and the fact that there were several areas where there were (I'm assuming) two or three separate words that were all in kana, so they easily could have been one word. Though I think he separated them with hiragana and katakana. I hope that's why it was like that or the first few pages may be a bit off >_>'. Oh well. It's mostly accurate.

The editing wasn't really hard, but I did have to change the art a bit (which I loath doing) in relation to the hearts. I moved and removed quite a few because it took up space AND HEARTS AREN'T A PUNCTUATION MARK. Whew. Whatever, that trap made up for it.

My next one will most likely be from OnkH 7, so watch out. Until next time.

HAPPY FAPPING!
