the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million (from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1999) and the number of people in the public sector who are employed in the health sector has increased by 1.2 million (from 1.3 million in 1980 to 2.5 million in 1999) (Department of Health 2000).

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the quality of care in the public sector. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of the Health Care Act 1999, which sets out the framework for the regulation of health care. The Act requires health care providers to ensure that they meet certain standards of quality and safety. It also requires them to have in place a system of monitoring and evaluation to ensure that they are meeting these standards.

In addition to the Health Care Act 1999, there are a number of other initiatives that are aimed at improving the quality of care in the public sector. These include the introduction of the Clinical Governance Framework, which sets out the requirements for health care providers to ensure that they are providing high quality care. It also requires them to have in place a system of monitoring and evaluation to ensure that they are meeting these requirements.

HUR-

Lick...

twitch

HEEE!

STILL HURTS.

Hello, or nice to meet you. I'm Dorina. I didn't think that the free extra for Shikixzaya that I was going to put out in June was going to turn out this long. I was talking about how tattoos were pretty moe, and it turned out this way...

As always, it's a Manga full of people's faces just floating in a blank background space, sorry!

I'm sure there's lots of points where you go "Hey!" or that seem weird, or Virgin Maiden-hara Cross-ya-san (orig. Otome(virgin)hara Kimo(gross)ya-san) or the unnecessary disposition of Shiki-san, or even though Shizuo is seme he's totally not seme enough- parts that you want to point out.

But well, it's Doujinshi so it can't be helped!

Thank you for picking this Doujinshi!
