

Softball
team ace.
My childhood
friend.

My first
love.

Yes!

Say it
louder!

That's not...

You have so many friends, and we're in different clubs.

Yeah. But you're pretty famous, Leo.

We haven't talked like this in a while, the two of us.

Your cheer club performance in the athletics festival was popular, too. Your juniors were all over you.

I don't have any friends like that.

No, that is really how you are...

They're only acting like that because they don't really know me!

Isn't it fine? Hang out with them.

No... This isn't what I wanted to talk about!

...Maori?

you've
become so
beautiful,
Maori!

That's-Because
you've...

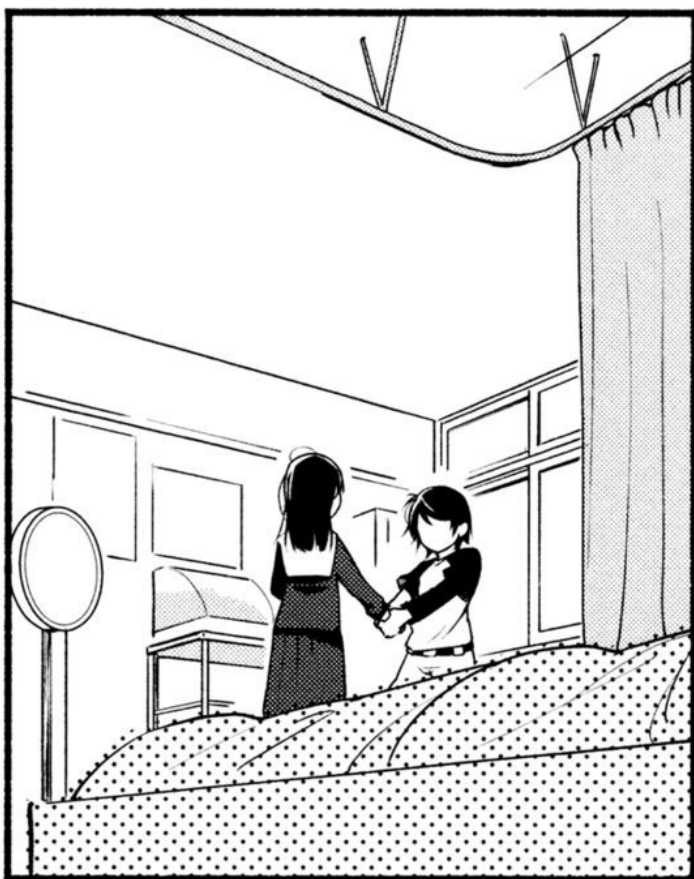

You won't
look at me.

You're
avoiding
me.

...But if
that hurt you,
I'm sorry.

I can't think straight when I'm around you! I couldn't act normally, or look
you in the eyes, so
I avoided you.

No,
this is,
um...

Fidget

Fidget

Hm?
What is it?
Is she hurt?

Kya!

SLIDE

I was bleeding!
But she took care of it, so I'm alright now!

Okay.
Do your best,
then.

I have to return to
my club!

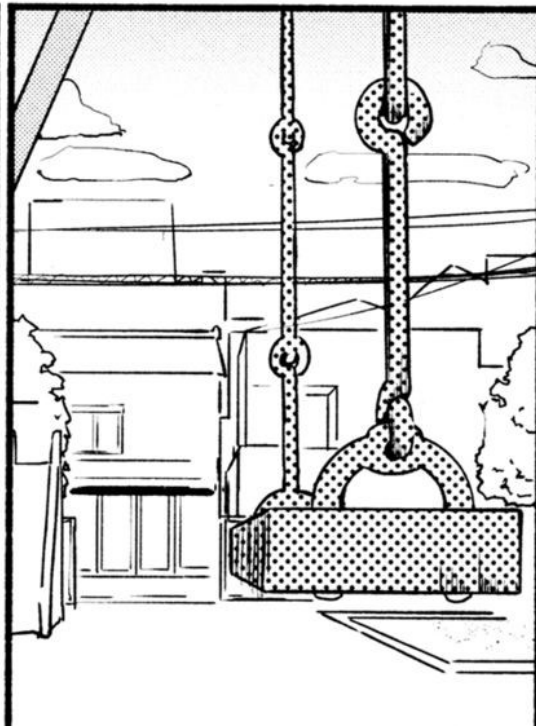

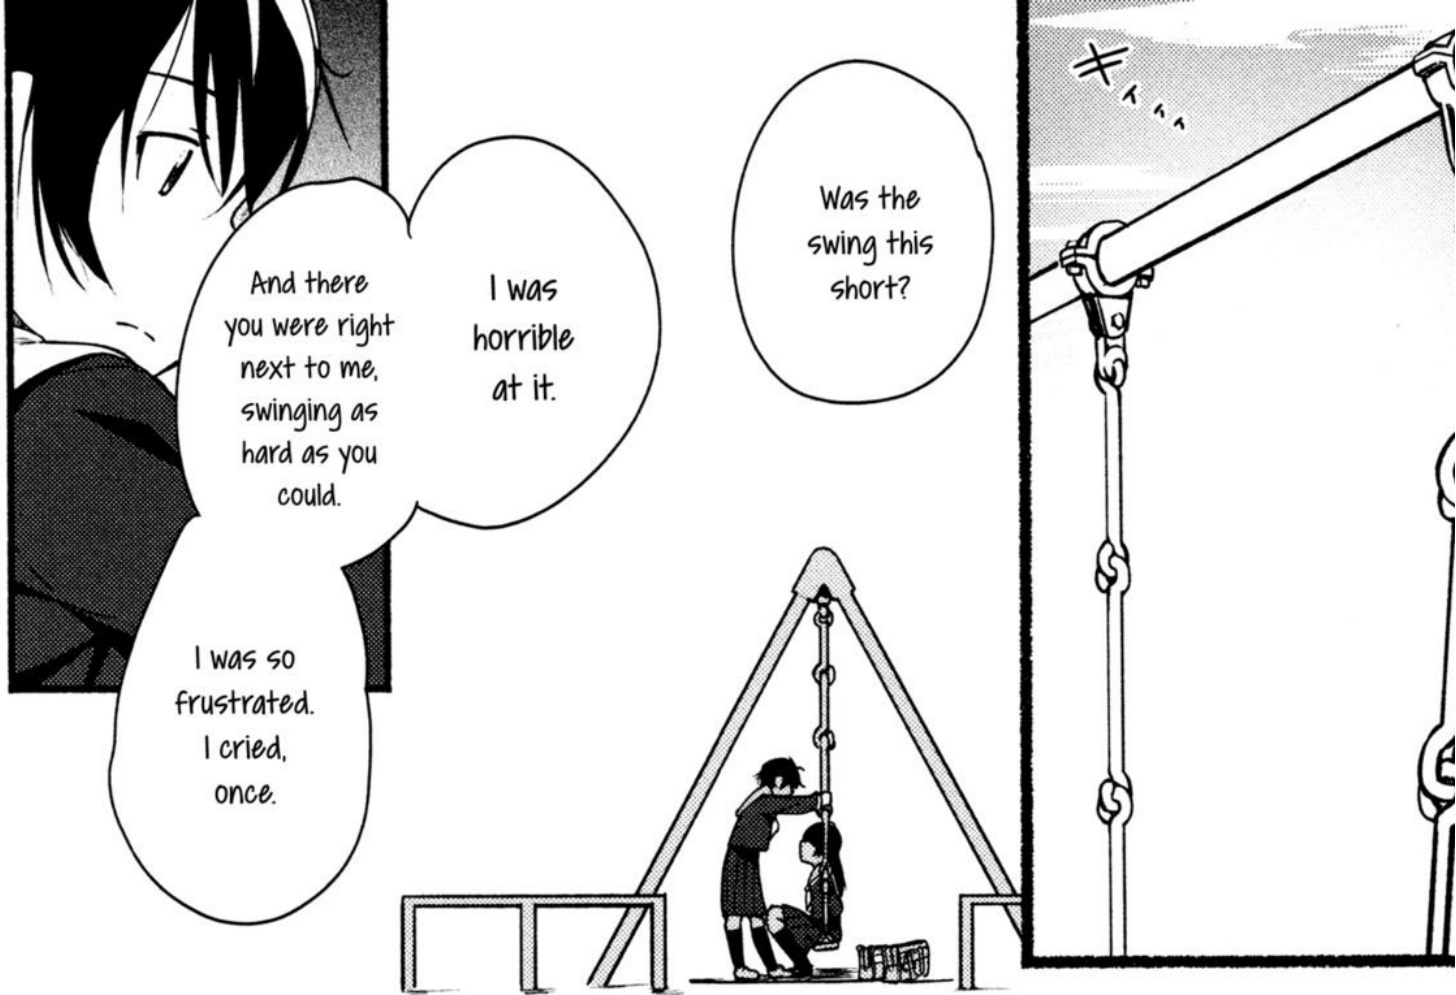

I was
so happy.
I wasn't
sure why.

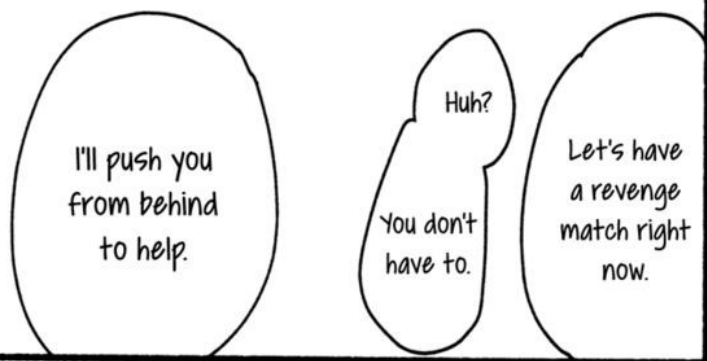

But the air I
took in smelled
so familiar;
and Leo was
next to me.

I couldn't
think of what
to say, and Leo
couldn't, either.
So we continued
walking silently.

Once again,
I'm walking
side by side
with Leo, on
a road lit by
the sunset.

I wonder if she still remembers.

I felt
my head
heating up
right away.
What
happened
after that I couldn't
quite recall.

Maori,
I think
I like you...

Sorry...
