SO, HOW'D YOU SPEND YOUR SUMMER?

Vol. 2 is here! This time around, I managed to increase the page count up to 52 pages over last the issue. I wanted to release something that fit the summer season, and one that was happening in space. I thought they would contrast each other nicely so I released them as two one-shots in this issue. I'm glad I managed to make them a bit longer than the chapters in Vol. 1 too. I was feeling in the spirit of 'Summer Break' so I decided to make this volume a special edition with that in mind. That feeling of enjoying your summer break despite your true feelings.

BOIGRAPH

Playing In An Amusement Park

Our scene this chapter takes place in an amusement park that's been abandoned. I was thinking a shota walking around an abandoned amusement park would feel oddly depressing. Like, shotas grow up and stop going to amusement parks, and people forget about them.

I tried to open this chapter without any dialogue to progress the story. In the end its all about the 'pictures' so kind of wanted to focus on that to move the story along. He's seeing everything through his view-finder. Never putting it down. Right, Never...

Abandoned buildings + Shotas

I'm really loving our mysterious main character, Kurosawa-kun. He's seems to be holding on to some strong personal experiences. I think I'll just leave it at that. But even if those don't have a happy ending those experiences leave strong impressions, and effect that path he walks in the future.

Ahh, but I'm realizing the further this progresses the more I'm reconsidering making this just about abandoned places. Let's just take more pictures!

Sorry, No Sexy Scenes

This one doesn't have any erotic scenes and I'm not very good at writing sci-fi. Sorry if its not very good. I wanted to draw some spacesuit shotas and this is ultimately what I came up with. I'd be open to expanding this story, but I

Manga Shounen Zoom Vol. 02

I worked to increase the number of pages for this volume, but it's really done a number on my schedule. I always say that but I still keep coming back for more, hehe. As long as everyone who reads it enjoys it, then I'm happy to continue. As always, I look forward to your comments.

I haven't decided exactly when I'm going to release the next one. It's going to be either October or December. So I'll see everyone then!

Erotic & Bittersweet

Sugiyama-Senpai & Amano-kun

First Time Masturbation

My original intention for this story was a bittersweet story with slightly erotic overtones, but given the events of the last chapter it made more sense to have our character have his 'first time masturbating' this time. Drawing someone's first masturbation is kind of nerve-wracking though.

I made a huge mistake in this chapter, too. I drew all of the characters dressed in summer clothes even though the last chapter was set in the Spring.

Only a few days have passed in-between so that's kind of a big mistake. I wanted to make this as realistic as possible, so I guess I messed that up.

I introduced a new character this week. His name is Onodera-kun. He's one of Amano-kun's classmates. He's outgoing and strong-arms his way in other people's lives like Sugiyama-senpai does. I wonder how his character will develop. Does he seem like he'd be interested in a sexual relationship with Amano-kun?

ASTRONAUT BOYS

His First Spacewalk

found drawing a sci-fi story really difficult, so I'm at a loss for ideas on where to take this story if I made that decision. I took the idea of 'Reactive Armor' from armored tanks. There is a lot of space debris, so it seemed possible they would have something like that, right? I'm sorry this story came out kind of strange.

Also, I really enjoy how the mascot robot 'Hipota' came out in sketches, so I'm glad I decided to include him.

Comic About Summer Break

This one-shot is the main focus of this volume. I wish I'd gotten more time to spend on the name. Do you think it came out okay? "Can porn really tell a story?" So, this is what I came up with. A boy carrying around sad secrets, running around outside, learning new game with his friends with a feeling all of it extends beyond a boy's summer vacation.

It was really bothering me while I was drawing this but, what kind of 'secret clubhouse' is that? When I was a kid our 'clubhouse' was behind the bushes of our apartment building. Thinking about it now though, if you're going to do naughty stuff like that, you probably want a 'clubhouse' that's as far away from home as possible, right?
