AFTER WORD

First, thank you very much to everyone,
Such as those who supported us by downloading
from MelonBooks.

Also, those who also saw it from the wrong sites,
thanks for watching!!

Our decision on the digital sales came about like this:

During the summer Comiket 84, Moral Gear started saying, "We should make a doujin for this winter's comiket!" to me.

However, since we didn't have the budget to pay for the printing and other things, Moral Gear suggested a different way to sell our works and said "How about digital sales on MelonBooks?".

During a period of 1 month, I pushed my drawing skills to the limit of what I can do.

I really struggled to draw digitally.

Since I had a long period of break time, I exclusively used that time every morning to evening to work on it.

I learned how to use tone, lettering, and line effects,
then, through all the trials and errors, I drew 22 pages.

If you read the afterword up to here, thank you!

Thank you very much!
