It's been quite a while.
This is Dodomeiro Mayonnaise.

Writing this now I'm just a few hours before my deadline.
I'm really cutting it close.

This is the first event I've attended in 2016.
I'd wanted to release two books,
but a few things got in the way and I ended up combining them into a collection.
I'd like to release a Sharon book at C91,
or maybe at another event.
[Note: Sharon is the short-haired catgirl.]

I'd already released some drafts of the contents on Twitter,
but how did you like the final product?
It's a dream-like space, or maybe it's just a dream,
of a world of horned-girls (working title).
I hope you enjoyed it, even just a little.

I'm happy to be getting so much work of late.
I want to learn more and more,
and have fun working on the things I'm doing.
Ah, I'm awaiting your commissions.
