♡Afterword♡

Due to the number of pages, the afterword ended up in here. It's a story all about a human-looking girl (in other words, a catgirl) getting turned into juice with a blender, drank, and finally, eaten. Catgirls are cats down to the bone, so you can find stray ones on the street. How fortunate.

It's recommended that you start eating from the parts that tend to get bad the fastest, such as intestines, eyeballs, or the brain, but the body will last a really long time if you freeze it, so depending on how you prepare it, you might perhaps be able to start from any part you like.
