Assistant

While she's technically the professor's assistant, she spends all her time rebelling against him. She considers him a good-for-nothing, bald old-man, and is constantly fighting with him, but respects his technical expertise.

Professor

While he is a good-for-nothing bald old-man, he largely puts up with his assistant's abuse, and can be quite amicable in his own way. On this occasion however, he has no qualms with using his assistant as a test subject for his own inventions. He's that kind of old man.

The Professor's Invention

Uses a combination of magic hands, brushes and other implements to tickle targets. Once activated, it cannot be stopped mid-way through its operating cycle. Each arm individually has the strength of Bob Sapp, and once captured targets have no chance of escape. Naturally, as a machine, it cannot be reasoned or bargained with.

It's finished!!

You're always inventing these pointless things!!

What the hell is that?!

If you've really reflected on what you did, don't worry about it... I'm sorry I've been so mean to you.

Com-mencing Stage Five.

Pro-, Professor...

M-, My bad... Now that I think about it... The machine has Ten stages... My bad, I forgot...

Profes-sor!?

AFTERWORD

Nice to meet you, Perimaru here.

Thank you so much for buying a copy of "Punishment! Tickling Machine".

As for the characters featured in this doujinshi,
They were taken from a CG collection I put out last year.

Lolis really are the best.

Lolis really are the best.

In this edition she's dressed up like some exhibitionist,
but the professor's assistant normally looks like this.

This is my 5th work with Perilab.

I'll be working hard on ero-manga and illustrations this year too,

I hope you continue to follow Perilab's work.
