(´-`).oO (I wanted to go camping...)

With that out of the way, hello everyone, or nice to meet you. I'm Malcorond.

It happened near the end of August... when I got a phone call from a friend.

"Let's go camping during the holidays in September."

Camping... it's been so long! I want to go...!

Drinking, BBQ, chatting and playing UNO until daybreak!

...but as attractive as the idea was, September holidays are right before the printing deadline for October doujin events.

Not to mention, I was also writing a manuscript for a commercial magazine at that time, which I had delayed, so until I finished that I couldn't even start working on what I was preparing for October.

Thus, I told my friend "I'll try, but I probably won't make it", but he told me I can think about it until the day before departure, so I just put the subject on hold.

After that, I finished the manuscript for the commercial magazine, and started working on the manuscript for the October event.

I had a vague idea about the contents, but I couldn't put it all together, and my work wasn't going anywhere.

After many wasted days, I thought to myself "this isn't working, I'll just put this story aside for now" and started thinking up another story.

At that point, I realized that it was no longer possible for me to go camping.

Even if I'd already had a different idea in mind, and work on it went super smoothly, it would still require an extremely tight schedule for me to get it printed in time for the October event, and I couldn't afford to waste a single day.

Thus, with tears in my eyes, I told my friend I couldn't make it.

But I couldn't stop thinking "Man, I really wanted to go on that camp..."

"Fuck it! I'll write a camping-themed eromanga!"

...And that's how the book you're reading now came to be.

...Although in the end, I didn't make it in time for the October event, so I'm releasing it in the November event...

Hey! ...I could have gone camping! (° 1°)

Thank you to everyone who bought this book!

If you like, please consider buying the next one too.

See you again.
