Half succubus, half vampire

Kyulla (male)

His favorite food is blood and semen. If you're bitten by Kyulla's fangs, the effect is similar to drinking an aphrodisiac.

He wanders around searching for blood and semen that tastes good, but often can't find much of high quality. This was the case when he collapsed on the main character's veranda.

Loves messing with people. Puts his own pleasure above everything else, so the amount of humans he's used, then thrown away is too large to remember... The main character's blood and semen seem delicious, though, so he apparently intends to never let him go.

Afterword...

Hello, and nice to meet you. I'm Kokonoe Yomogi.

The trap this time was a half succubus, half vampire because I loved that idea. He's a bit of a greedy trap that loves blood in addition to semen. Seems like he could suck you dry in more ways than one, haha.

I've been wanting to draw a more sadistic trap for a while now, and while I technically did...he wasn't exactly as sadistic as I would've liked, and that's a little frustrating. I'd like to draw a really intense sadist eventually. That being said, it was still really fun drawing Kyulla. Plus, recently I've really started enjoying gloves on characters. Since I got to draw them here, I'm really satisfied. White semen on black gloves is just fantastic...though I also like white gloves. Nude with only gloves or a swimsuit with gloves are both great.

Leaving the glove discussion behind, some time in the future, I'd like to continue drawing monsterboys (maybe a demon or angel?), along with a super sadistic trap!

(This is a side note, but I'd really like to do something about my...lackluster titles. Seriously.)

Thank you very much for reading all the way to the end here, and I hope to see you again.
