

You and Maruyama finally started going out...

So, are things not going well or what?

What's with the long face?

It's just...

That's... not really it...

Intimate...

What, so you want to get more intimate with him?

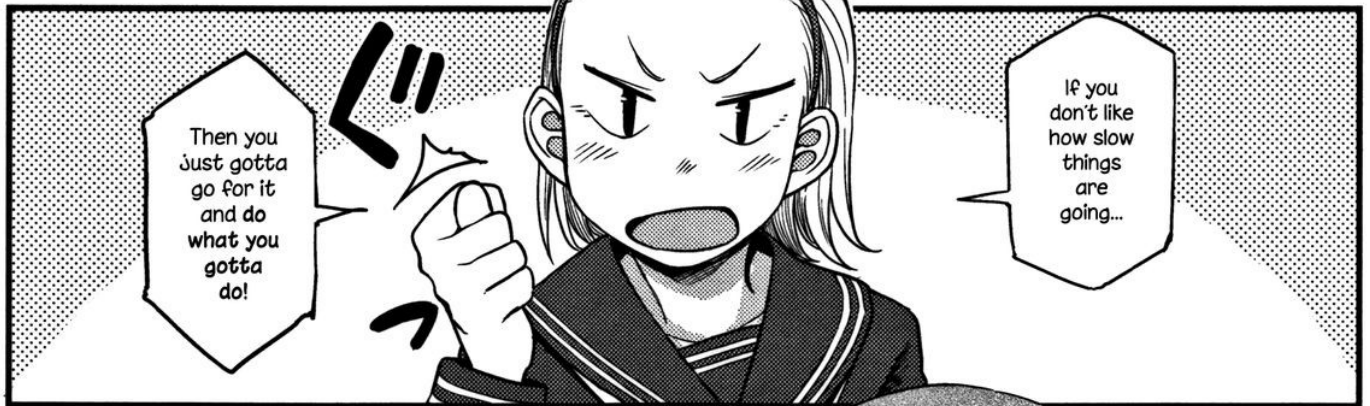

Let me just ask this first, though.

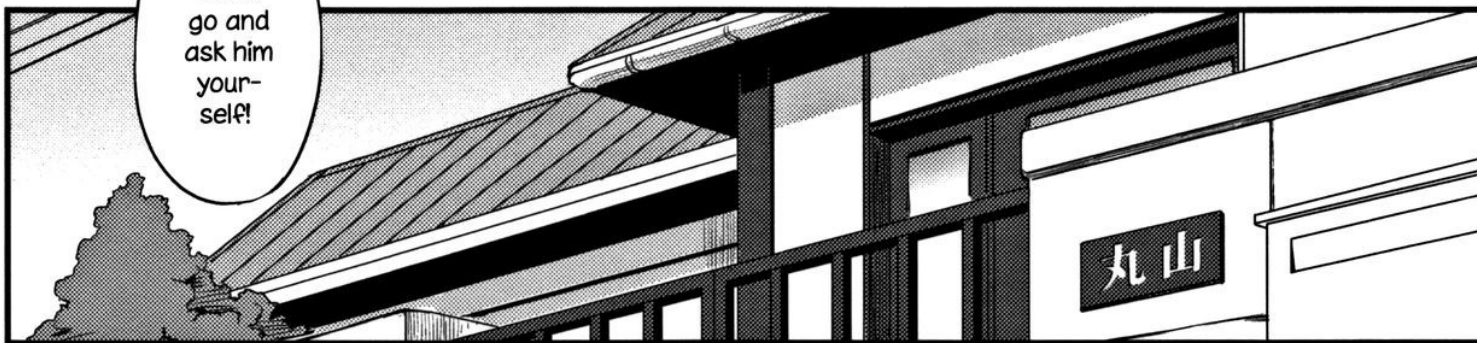

You two have at least kissed, right?

So I was wondering if this is how it should be like...

Even though we're "going out" now, nothing's really changed...

Me and Sou-kun have been close since we were kids, so...

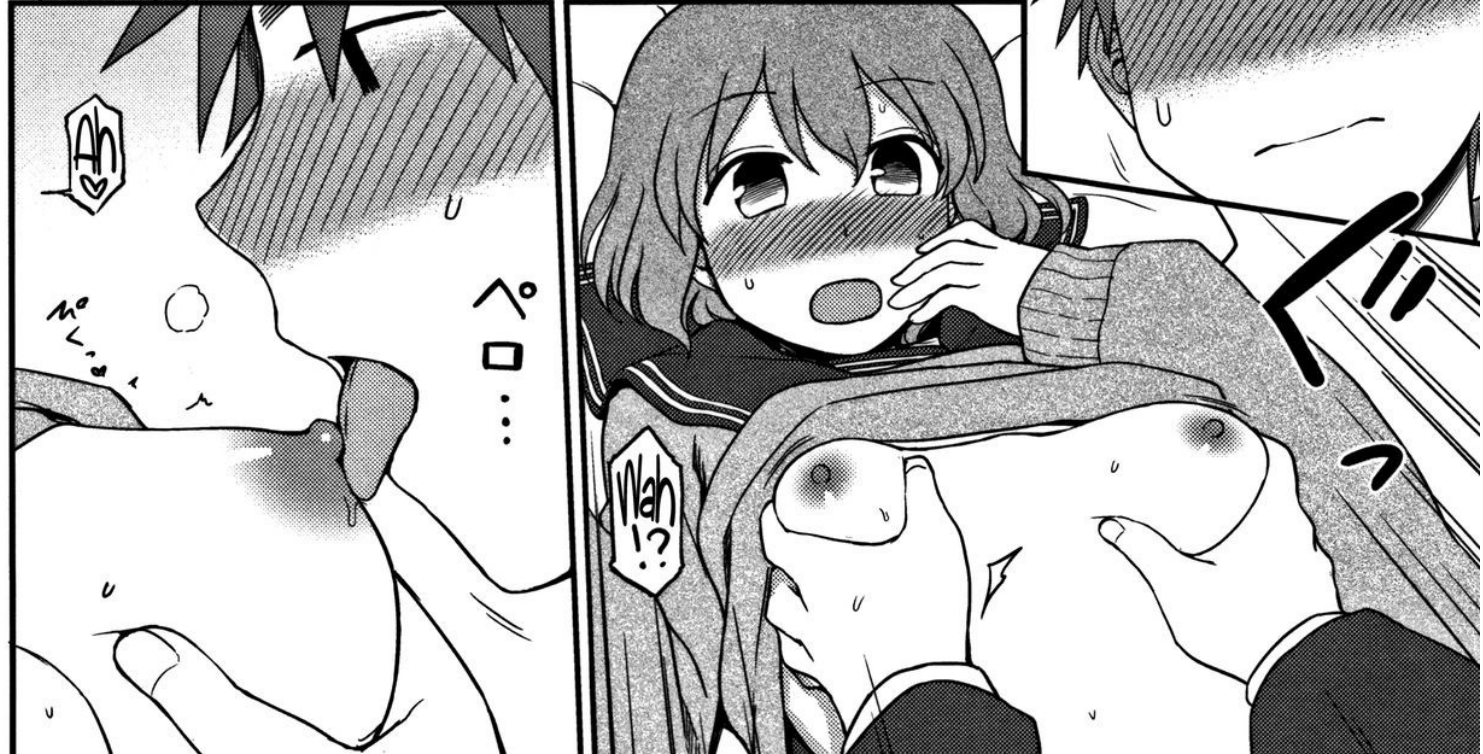

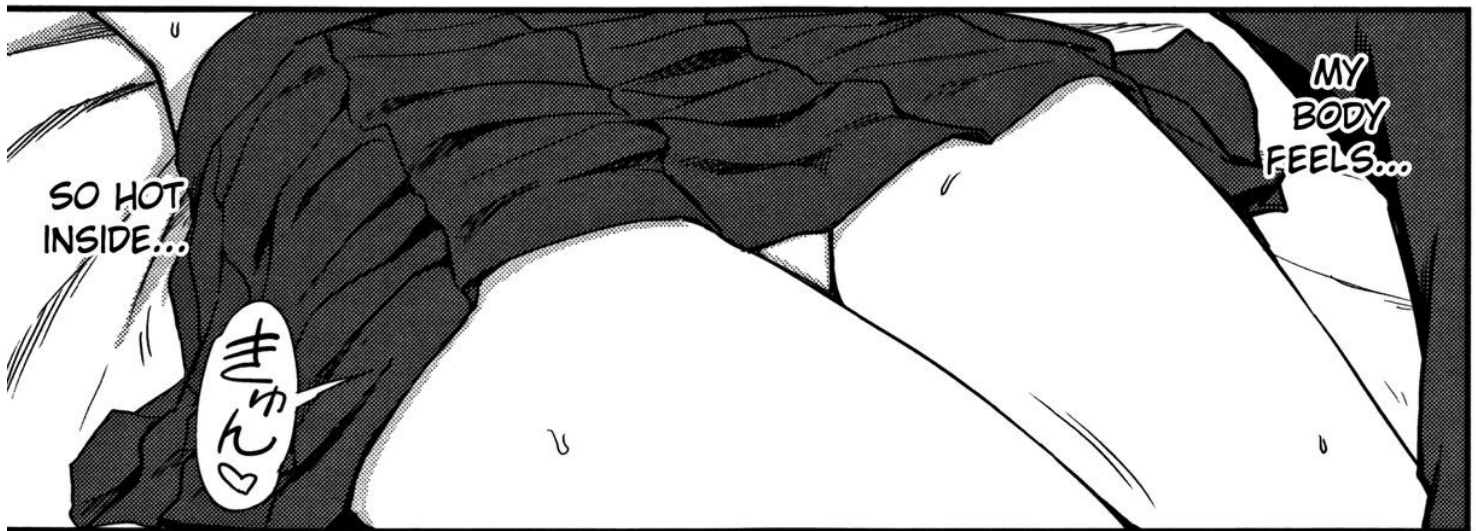

He's going inside me...
