is why she looks

Ending Words

Another afterword with nothing to write about!

I've already made almost twenty middle schooler books.
Huh!? Twenty...? Is that for real...? It doesn't really feel like that many...
There are still plenty of girls and stories I plan to draw, so I do think that number's going to grow much larger. Still, it has to end one day...

By the way, I held a popularity poll way back, and Chika and Sayuri came out on top. I was quite moved. I do feel a little sad sometimes after I finish drawing, knowing I'll probably never get to draw that girl again, but at the same time, I feel like new girls deserve to be loved as well.

Now, is "Shouju no C" coming out next?
I hope so~
