Afterword

This is an omake book, Vol 2.5 was published following Vol 1.5.

The first time I've given omake books was in a rough state, it really feels like an "omake (freebie)", ever since 1.5 I've decided to do these omake properly.

Vol 1.5 was given for free at Comitia, but I think a lot of people couldn't get their hands on it, so it's uploaded right now on DMM and on my Pixiv.

To those who are interested, please do take a look.

This one was released along with the pages of the main volume, I've been thinking of joining all the main and omake when I compile it.

I can also add more contents that I haven't drawn, I want to make it that way in the future.

By the way, I use Comic Studio as my software for drawing, but this time, I switched to Clip Studio. I got used in it just drawing the omake pages, and it came out well.

If you thought that there's something different at this, that may be the cause. It's really a convenient software, it has given me a lot of impressions which I think will be useful for using in the future.

Well that got long, thank you very much for reading up to this point.

It'll be wonderful if you look forward for this series.

That's all folks, see you in the next event!
