Hello, Ohigetan here! Thanks a lot for buying this! (•∀•)
It sure has been hot lately! I've been turning on the AC and staying shut up inside. It made me get all sorts of work done and do a bunch of deep thinking. I'm entering my thirties, and finding it harder to keep concentrated. I felt pretty restless during 2016-17, so for a while I'd like to calm down and slowly focus on a work. From now on I'm thinking of only making doujinshi in the summer, and I think I'll use the time besides that to work on doujin games and business stuff. One time I missed the registration and had to skip it, but I've been going for about 10 years, so not going in winter of my own accord is a little sad. But even so, I want to take my time on some other work, so maybe a new way to work wouldn't be so bad? Is what I've been thinking. I'll be doing my best going forward, so thank you for understanding. Let's get along next time as well! (´p`)/
