A full-page manga illustration from 'Hime-chan's Clinic'. The scene depicts a group of young women being interviewed by a man. In the foreground, a girl with dark hair and a star-patterned headband (Hime-chan) lies on her back, smiling broadly with her eyes closed. She wears a light green crop top and purple shorts. A hand is visible near her groin area. To her right, another girl with brown hair and a similar headband looks up nervously, her mouth open as if shouting or crying. She wears a purple vest over a striped shirt. Other girls are partially visible in the background, some looking distressed. A man in a white shirt and tie stands on the right, holding a video camera and speaking to them. The background shows a window with vertical bars.
