Postscript

When people wonder about the day they will die, it's normal for most to wonder about how the ideal way to go would be. Regardless if it's fiction or non-fiction, the idea of someone fulfilling their dreams just before they die will move many hearts. Even if it's not something that we can actually do in reality, we still long for that dream. Among those ideals, one that always comes up at least once for every male is the idea of dying while standing, struggling for what you believe in. To put it simply, while dying, your posture and attitude will represent what you considered important in your life, and will reflect your personality. Thus, what you saw in this chapter is what can be defined as such, right? That struggling man, no matter how you look at it, you can definitely tell what his desires were! Isn't that cool? Didn't it show in his penis a little as well? That's the forbidden desire. It's just irresistible.

...phew. Anyway, while thinking about the ideal way to die, that lead me to think about the ideal way to live my life as well. If we can hold our beliefs up until the day we die, wouldn't that be an ideal way to pass as well? For now, I choose to continue drawing about my perfect ideals that lurk in my head. If when you read this book one of my ideas can become one of your ideals, that would allow me to reach what I long for.

From the bottom of my heart, I'd like to thank everyone for buying this book.
