About Omegaverse

Omegaverse is a foreign fan-fiction setting (secondary creation) that's getting popular on novel sites. In this universe, in addition to the male and female sexes there is { α (alpha) sex} { β (Beta) sex} { Ω (omega) sex}. In all there are 6 genders in total.

The natures of $\alpha \cdot \beta \cdot \Omega$

You can identify the gender of someone by a test like a blood test. The characteristics of each gender type is as follows.

Alphas are charismatic and elite by nature. Therefore, they usually have a high social status. In the animal kingdom they would stand at the top.

Betas are ordinary people. Beta is the most common gender in the population, it is common to find betas marrying other betas.

It is possible for both men and women to get pregnant and is often treated as a "species breeder". Due to the regular "estrus period", which interferes with work, omegas usually have a lower social status in society. Omega males only have a uterus-like reproductive organ in the back of the rectum during the estrus period, allowing them to become pregnant.

About the estrus period of the Ω

The omega sex experiences an estrus period that occurs once every three months for about a week. To keep the species alive, the omega sex becomes fertile and emits intense pheromones. The pheromone very strongly attracts the alpha sex (and occasionally the beta sex) indiscriminately, irrespective of your will. When the estrus period comes, daily life is hindered, so omegas must take a pheromone-suppressing inhibitor. There are some occasions where a pheromone-suppressor can be used for both alpha and omega pheromones. But, if an omega pairs with an alpha the pheromone of the omega will only affect the alpha in the pair and no-one else.

About pairs

Alphas and omegas can establish a relationship or "pair". In order to become a pair, typically the alpha bites the nape of the omega. The pair relationship is very instinctual and is much stronger than a lover or marital relationship. There are many cases of relationships breaking up because of meeting one's fated pair. The relationship between a pair typically cannot be broken until you die, but it is possible for the alpha to break the tie between a pair. In most cases the omega experiencing the loss of it's alpha in a pair receives considerable mental damage.
