YE-YES

A vertical strip of a drawing, likely from a larger work. It shows a hand with fingers slightly curled, reaching upwards. The hand is rendered in a simple, sketchy style. Above the hand, there are some abstract, dark, textured shapes that look like ink splatters or heavy shading. The background is white. The overall style is minimalist and gestural.
