Talk about a fun time. I'll be honest, if I had a friend that looked like that...hell, if any 3D man looked like that, sexuality would be an afterthought. Namely, after I'm done fucking the shit out of him/it. This one was really well done. It had great art, a decent story, and the word "homo" at least 5 times.

The translation of this was absurdly simple, but I do have one note. I had a hell of a time making that "rejection" scene make sense. Because of the way Japanese works, the subject of the phrase was made purposely ambiguous (but obviously intended to make the reader think Naoto got rejected) so that Naoto could later clarify. But if I'd translated it closer to the original, it wouldn't have made sense in English. I seriously debated just sticking "Confession" and "Rejection" into the two big bubbles on that page, but I eventually just broke down and changed it slightly. Oh well. The meaning's the same anyway.

My next one will be my 50th trap TL. I have quite a few lined up for my next possible, but I haven't chosen one yet. Whatever it is, it'll be extremely good, so just look forward to it. Until next time.

P.S.

One more thing I forgot to say. Sorry about the one file that's (quite a bit) smaller than all the others. The only gallery of this I could find only had the small version of that file, so the only choice was to either do all small, leave it out, or just stick that small one in with the big ones. I think the last was and is the best choice. Nothing I could do about it, though.
