I FORGIVE YOU.

WELL...HOW ABOUT 3 CAKES?

JUST LEAVE ME ALONE ALREADY.

AGAIN...?

Ah...you still haven't started to run off yet?

Quite often I find myself just not satisfied with the faces [that I've drawn], especially the second half [time-wise] of them after I already drew the first half. I'm actually so dissatisfied that I end up modifying it and get to the point of thinking, "uhm... I want to stamp my seal on this" [aka. finish with it]. With the flower of my heart starting to wither [aka. Somewhat dejectedly], I submit it [before it completely withers]. "The Story I Thought Up" chronologically sort of feels like a "second half" sort of story, yet when will I be able to continue it? Or should I say will I even draw it? I decided to not let it bother me. I've been doing the same thing over and over and I'd like to head outside that pattern. Right now I think I'd like to go with chakuero [erotic models or chracters that are not nude or completely nudel].

Also, even though I decided a long while ago that this [demon] girl's name would be Anri-chan, next time I'd like to have everyone know that if possible - for the reasons I've written above, now I've told you. As for the male character, Shugo Chara!'s Ikuto Tsukiyomi was the inspiration. There are 3 girls who could be signboard girls [those girls who stand outside of a store and attract customers], but I thought that the blonde-haired one would be most popular, and came here in support.
