Words from a Rock

(Author notes)

Finally! My first actual comic! I'm so happy with how it came out! There are a lot of things that I'd like to revisit (like backgrounds. Grr), but overall, I think this came out rather well. I wanted to make something that could be compared with an actual "manga" so having finished this is a real joy for me (thought I'm still recovering from the long hours of working on it, lol). This is the largest project I've worked on so far. I didn't expect it to be so long, but I think it flows better that way. This chapter's focus was mainly on the breast expansion, but surprisingly, I was able to get in the other two "B's" in as well.

To those of you who have purchased this comic, I hope you've enjoyed this little story and were able to "satisfy" yourselves as well. Call it a quirk, but there are certain points where my "goal" is to make the scenes seem appealing enough to warrant a hard-on, lol. For those of you wondering, I plan to continue this as a series, so there will be a lot more of Mina and Aibira in the future (and "other things" if you catch my drift, lol) For those of you who were somehow able to obtain this comic from an outside source, I'm glad to know that you've taken an interest in my work, however I ask that you purchase this book by official means instead. By doing so, you'll not only support this series, but others that I have in the works, as well as more free content as well.

Finally, I'd like to give a special thanks to J-T-D and Soylent Orange for helping with this comic's completion. I couldn't have done it without you guys! And I'd like to thank you the reader for supporting this comic as well. Let's make this ride a good one, shall we?
