Afterword

Hey, Sekihan here. It's been a while!

Thanks a lot for reading. The story this time around was drawn with a pretty different feeling to anything I've drawn before, so I'm wondering how it turned out.

It's definitely a bit lacking in the end, but I suddenly realised I had to send it off to the publisher right away. I pretty much say this every year, but my resolution for the new year is to try and draw manga more systematically!

Here's to another good year together.
