

Harbour
Festival
Passion

In the beginning, the two heroes used to be blood brothers, but lately being half blooded after their mother's second marriage. But everything then turned upsidedown. As the deadline drew near, suddenly inspiration struck me. 24 pages were then created, afterward the amount was limited to 16 what a mess it was. Thinking about all the trouble I have had, I send a mail to complaint all the slumps suffered to my teacher the great Gengoroh Tagame with tears. A little while later, when I received a mail returned from my teacher after he read the pulished serial story saying "worriness is useless", I felt the slump has gone finally. That was the true feeling I have had, at that moment.
