Afterword:

Greetings, I'm MUK. This is my first time publishing a doujinshi. This is also my first time fully colouring a manga, I got to experience what an incredible job this is in the process. These professional artists actually made it to the weekly or monthly magazines... I always wanted to be a mangaka since I was a kid, and now that's just a forgotten dream, dissipating with the ash of my work as I finished my progress... Just kidding. Speaking of which, working on this was a great pleasure, I wonder if I should do more of these in the future. I wanted to draw a "tiny" and "evil" girl this time around, thus this doujinshi was made. Lastly, thank you so much for buying my book.
