Finally, I began to unravel the fate that had befallen us.

All that remained was the unfamiliar figure of a young girl.

The strong, muscular man that had raped me was nowhere to be found.

A 3D-rendered interior of a room. In the foreground, there is a large, quilted mat on the floor. To the right, a desk is partially visible. In the background, a window looks out onto a green landscape. Two red and white striped poles are leaning against the wall near the window. The room has a modern, industrial feel with grey walls and a dark ceiling.
