Postscript

Finally, it's been a while since I released a bath house manga. For this one, I tried to include some of the things I witnessed in real bath houses. Like the 120cm sign (though the real one had something about ages as well...).

I also saw things like boys running away when they saw a couple of girls running and playing around in the men's bath. I wanted to include that too, but there just wasn't enough space.

This time around I tried making more innocent characters, and I hope you were able to enjoy them that way. I had to finish it all in such a short time that I'm not completely satisfied with the way I drew their bodies though... Hope next time I can take my time and draw better.
