

ORGASM-FORCING CLITORISWITCH

BY KUISOLI SWITCH

"There's a device to manipulate clitoris. I'm selling it for a cheap price."

Or so what an anon on the internet wrote. It's more likely a stupid joke but since it's so cheap that even a student like me can afford it, I decided to buy it for fun. However, the method to pay and receive the item was a pain in the ass.

"Don't get caught, okay?"

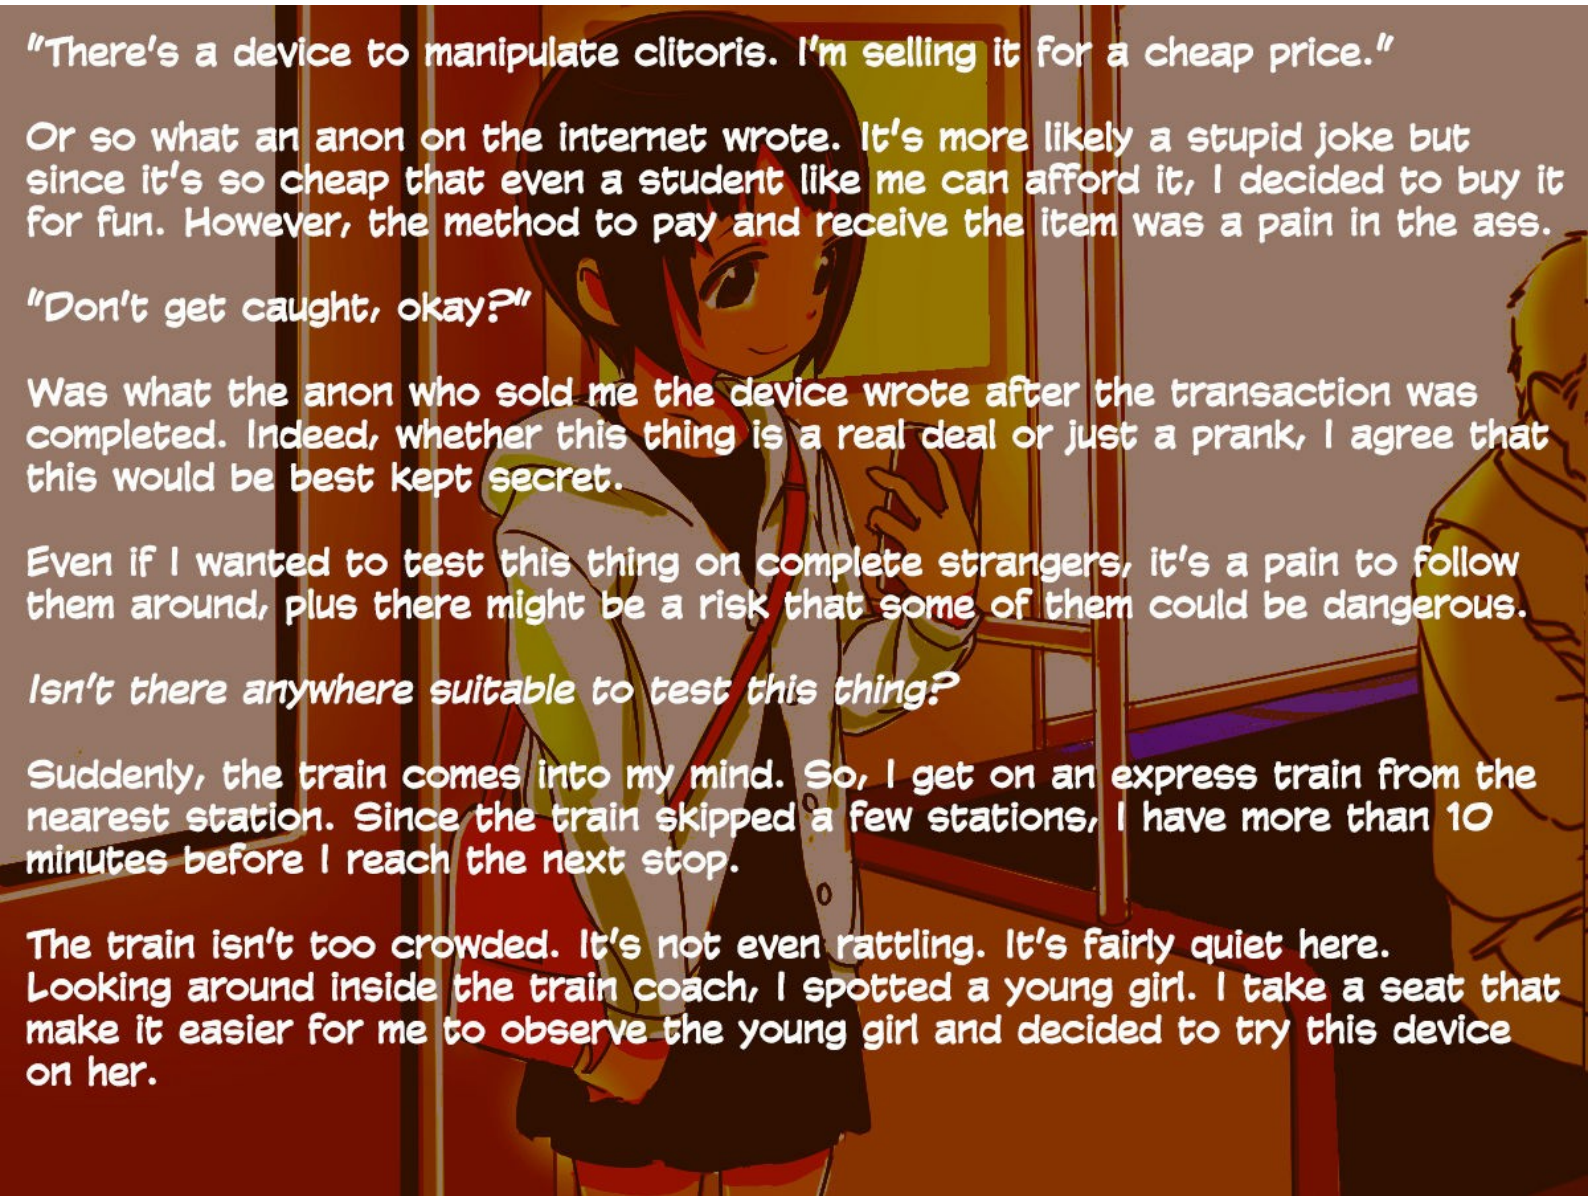

Was what the anon who sold me the device wrote after the transaction was completed. Indeed, whether this thing is a real deal or just a prank, I agree that this would be best kept secret.

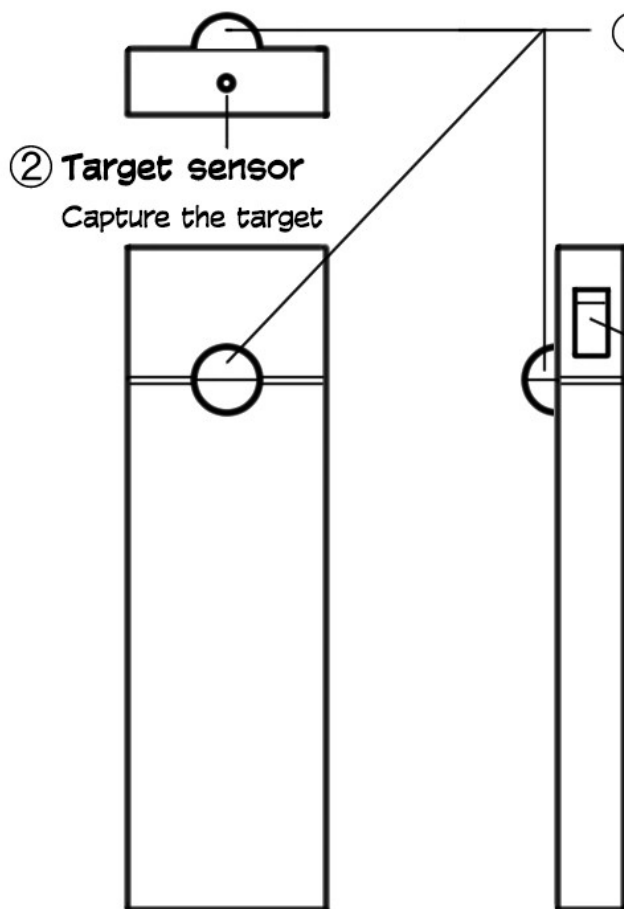

Even if I wanted to test this thing on complete strangers, it's a pain to follow them around, plus there might be a risk that some of them could be dangerous.

Isn't there anywhere suitable to test this thing?

Suddenly, the train comes into my mind. So, I get on an express train from the nearest station. Since the train skipped a few stations, I have more than 10 minutes before I reach the next stop.

The train isn't too crowded. It's not even rattling. It's fairly quiet here. Looking around inside the train coach, I spotted a young girl. I take a seat that make it easier for me to observe the young girl and decided to try this device on her.

① ClitoriSwitch

Synchronize the target's clitoris, making her feel any stimulation applied to the switch. The switch has two sections:

The upper half inflicts gentle stimulation over the clitoral hood (foreskin)

The lower half inflicts intense stimulation directly on the clitoris

③ Target locking switch

While capturing the target with the sensor, sliding this switch will cause the ClitoriSwitch and the target's clitoris to synchronize.

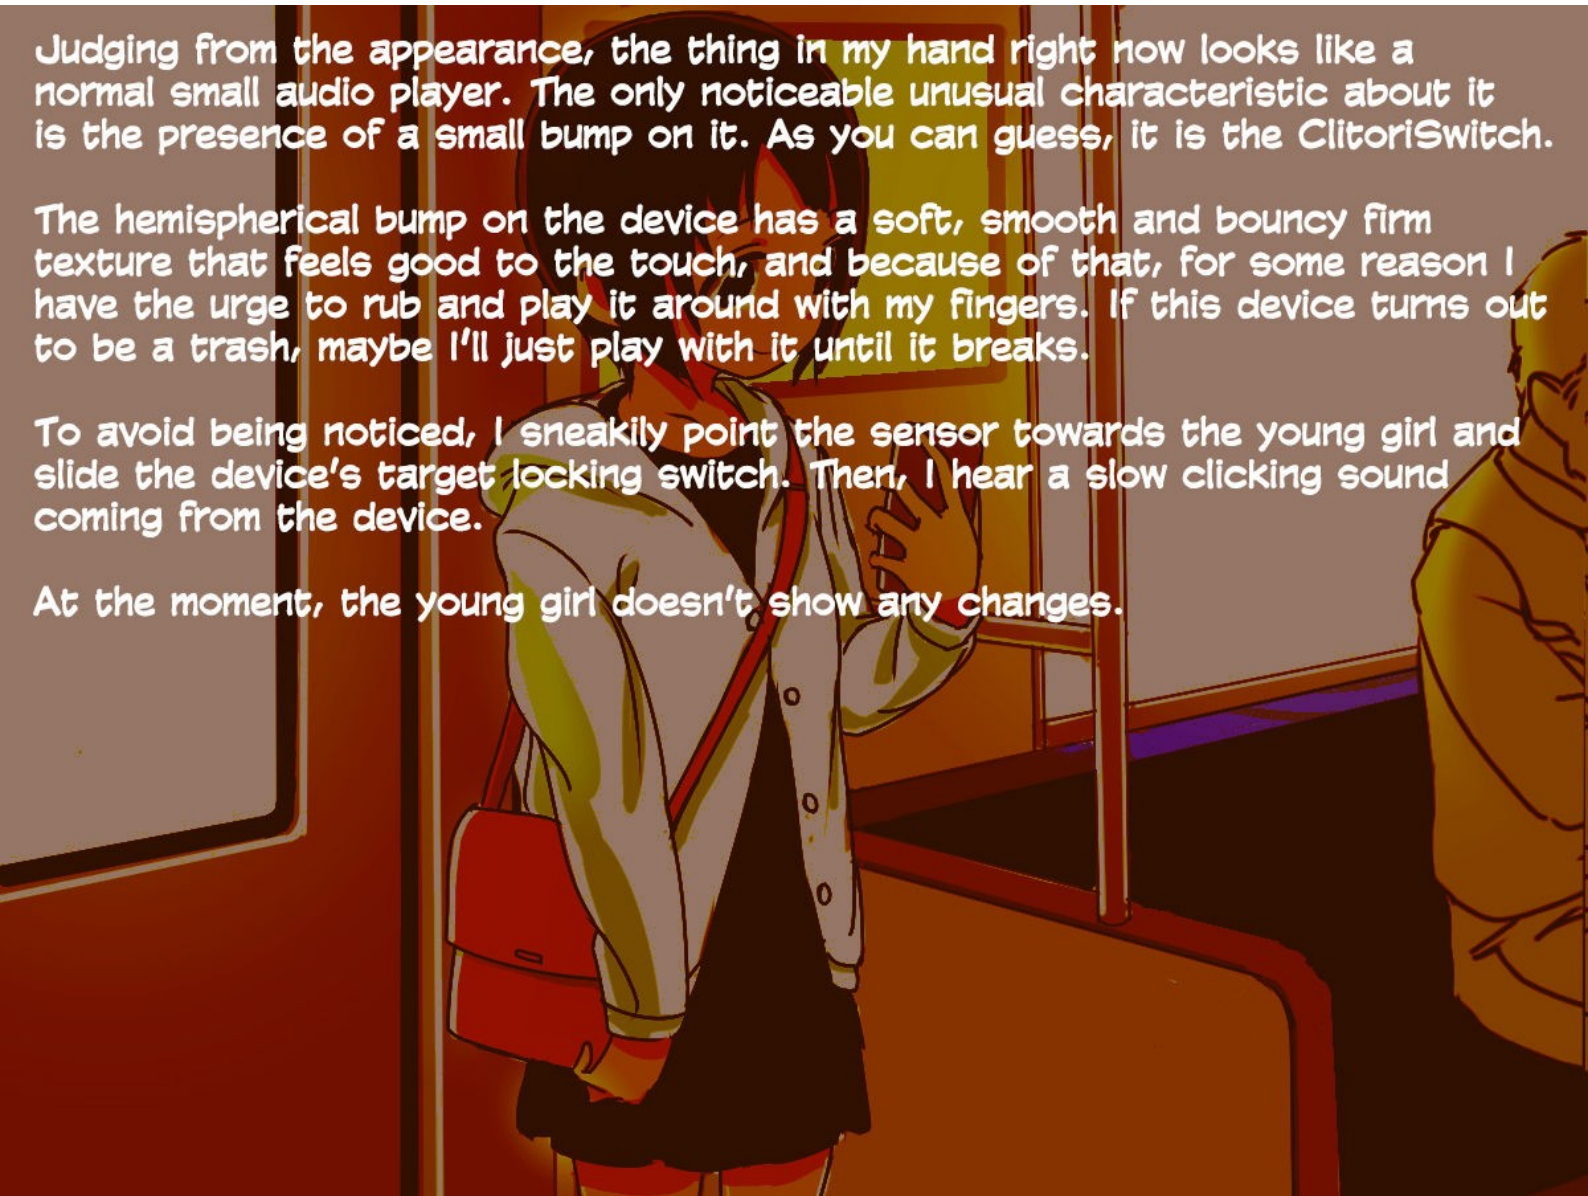

Slide it again to cancel the synchronization.

Judging from the appearance, the thing in my hand right now looks like a normal small audio player. The only noticeable unusual characteristic about it is the presence of a small bump on it. As you can guess, it is the ClitoriSwitch.

The hemispherical bump on the device has a soft, smooth and bouncy firm texture that feels good to the touch, and because of that, for some reason I have the urge to rub and play it around with my fingers. If this device turns out to be a trash, maybe I'll just play with it until it breaks.

To avoid being noticed, I sneakily point the sensor towards the young girl and slide the device's target locking switch. Then, I hear a slow clicking sound coming from the device.

At the moment, the young girl doesn't show any changes.

...SEND!

"I'LL BE THERE IN ABOUT 10
MINUTES", AND...

SOMEHOW...
THAT PLACE
DOWN THERE
FEELS A BIT CHILLY...

HM?

The young girl's body jerked a bit at the same time when I touched the switch. It might be a coincidence, so I touch the upper half of the switch multiple times to confirm it. Every time I touch the switch, her whole body tense up. I take a look at the area around me suspiciously.

This thing might be the real deal after all.

...THAT PLACE IS TINGLING...

WHY...?
I DIDN'T DO ANYTHING BUT...

WHY DOES
IT FEEL LIKE SOMEONE IS TOUCHING ME...?

I WONDER IF SOMETHING IS WRONG WITH ME...

RUB RUB RUB

WHAT SHOULD I DO...
CAN'T THE TRAIN
ARRIVE AT THE
NEXT STATION
SOONER...?

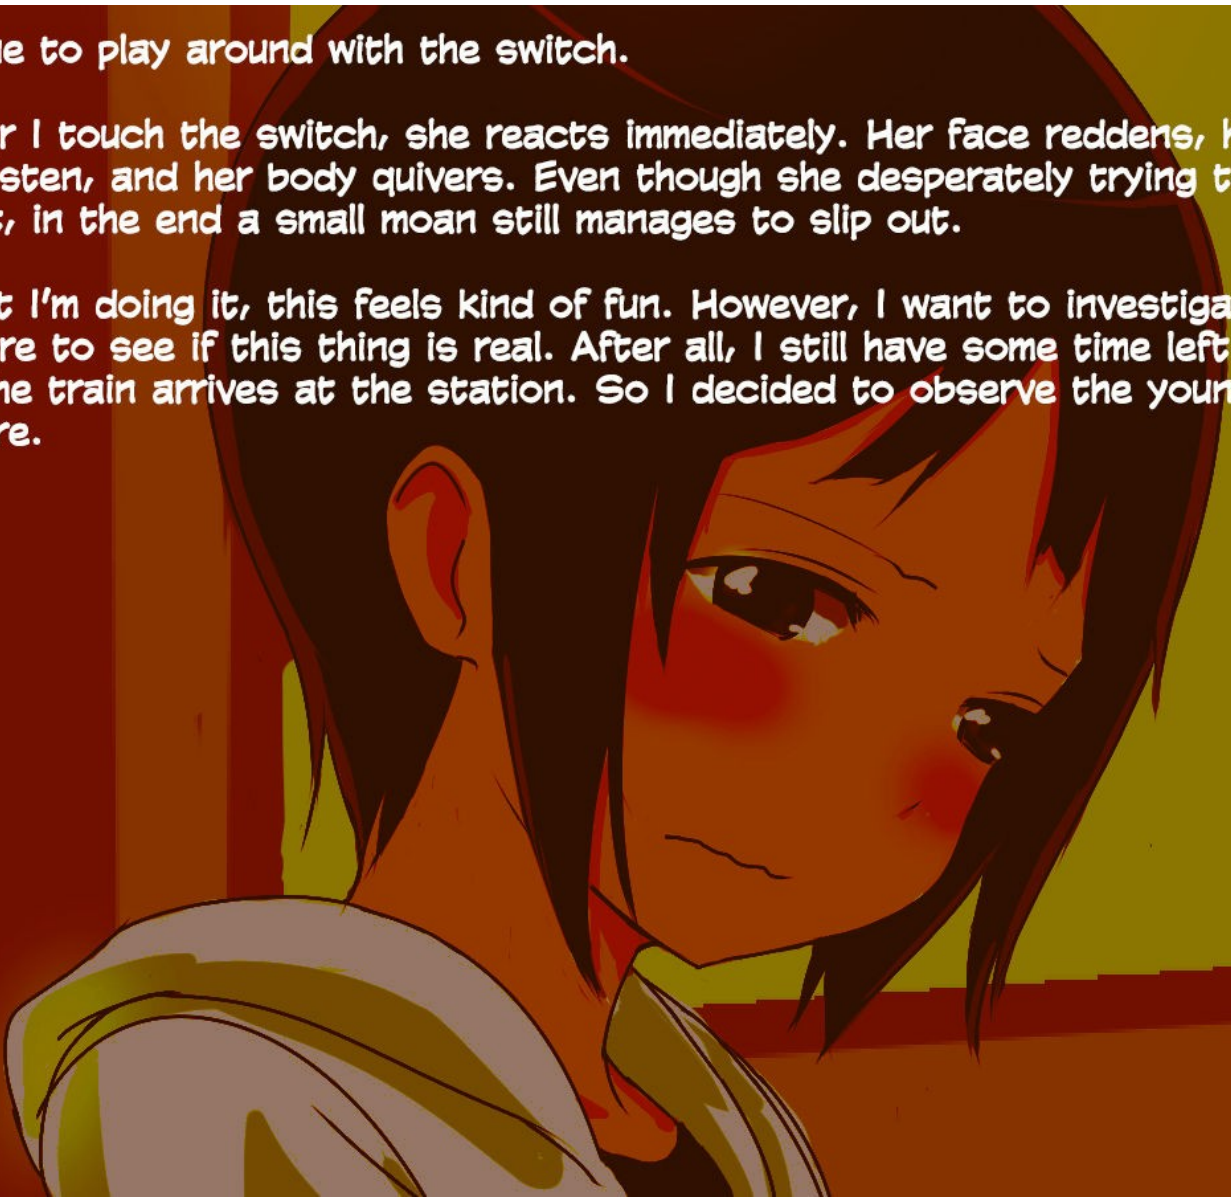

RUB RUB RUB

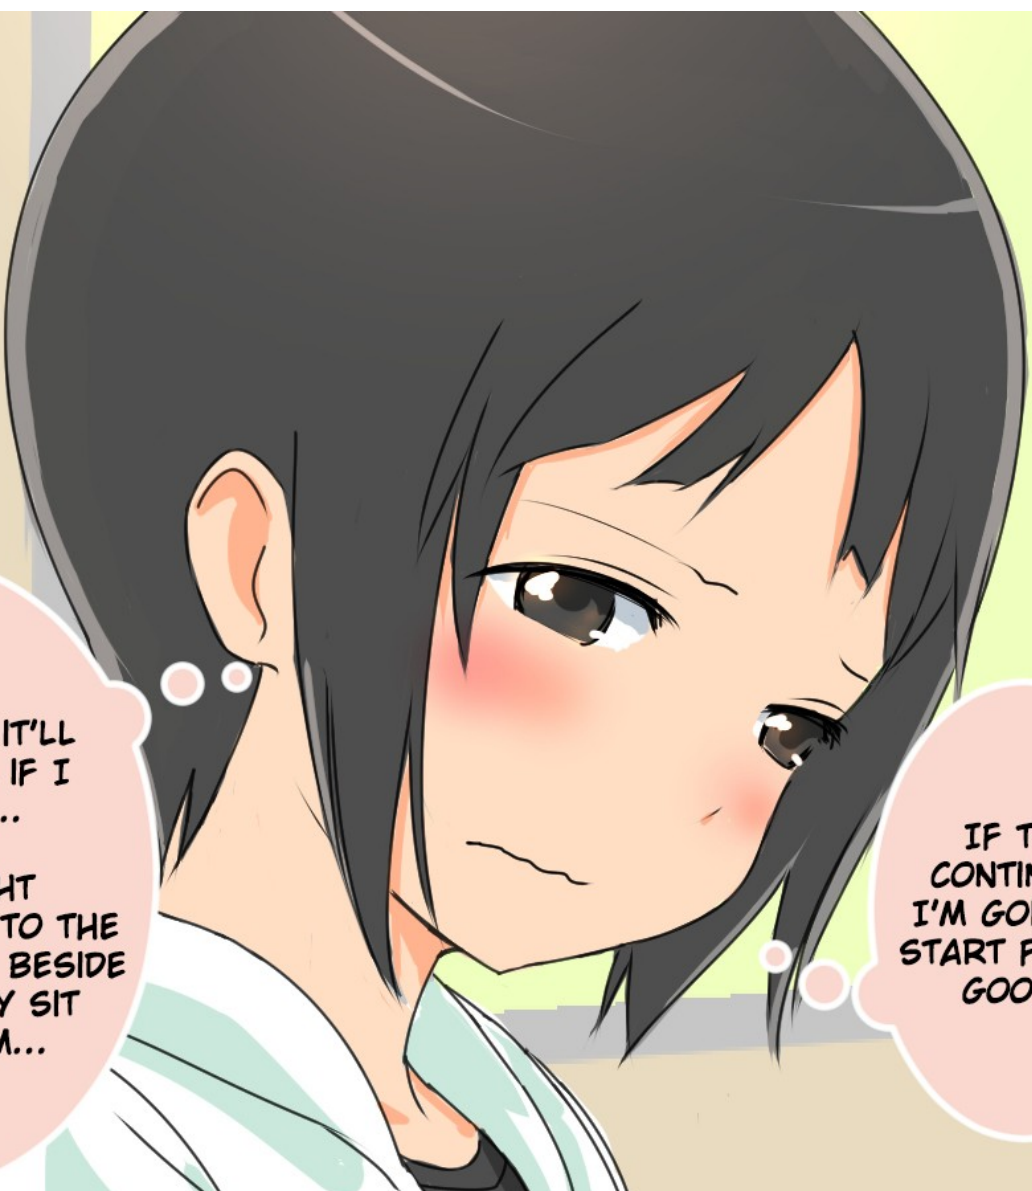

I continue to play around with the switch.

Whenever I touch the switch, she reacts immediately. Her face reddens, her eyes moisten, and her body quivers. Even though she desperately trying to endure it, in the end a small moan still manages to slip out.

Now that I'm doing it, this feels kind of fun. However, I want to investigate some more to see if this thing is real. After all, I still have some time left before the train arrives at the station. So I decided to observe the young girl a bit more.

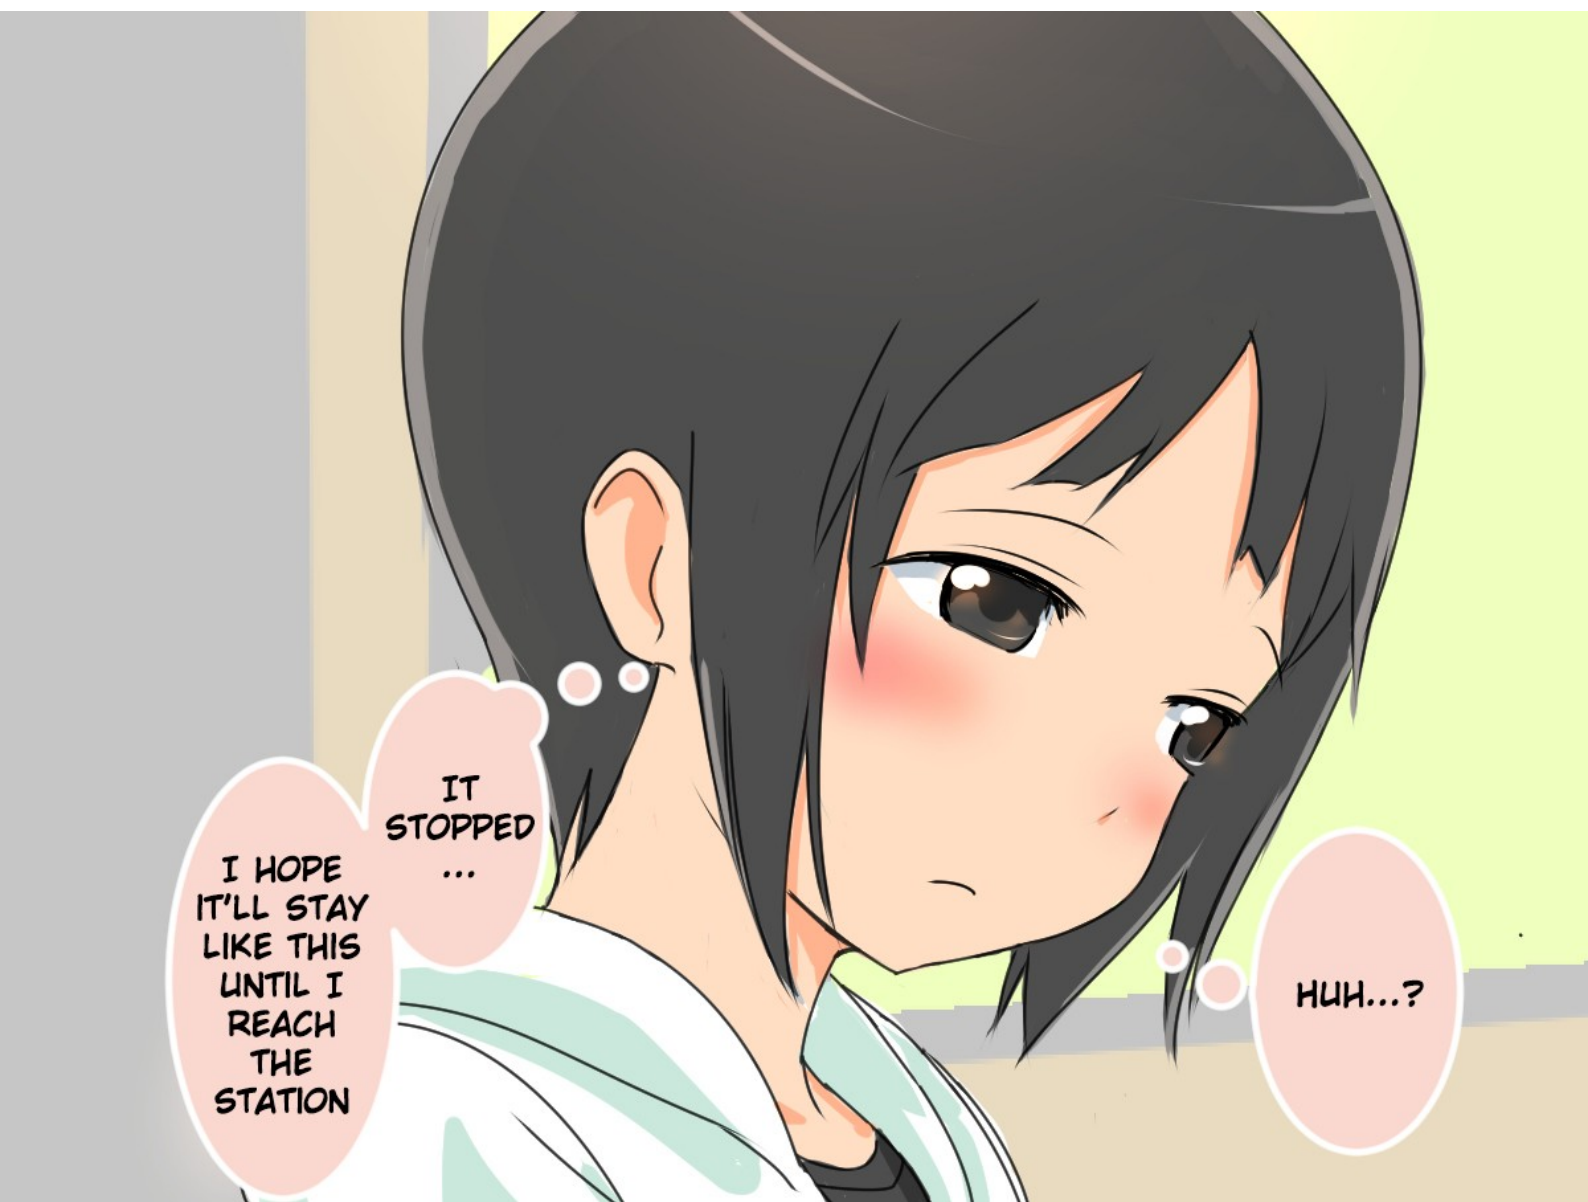

I WONDER IF IT'LL
FEEL BETTER IF I
SIT DOWN...

BUT IT MIGHT LOOK STRANGE TO THE PERSON SITTING BESIDE
IF I SUDDENLY SIT
NEXT TO HIM...

IF THIS CONTINUES,
I'M GOING TO START FEELING GOOD...

I HOPE
IT'LL STAY
LIKE THIS UNTIL I REACH
THE STATION

IT STOPPED
...

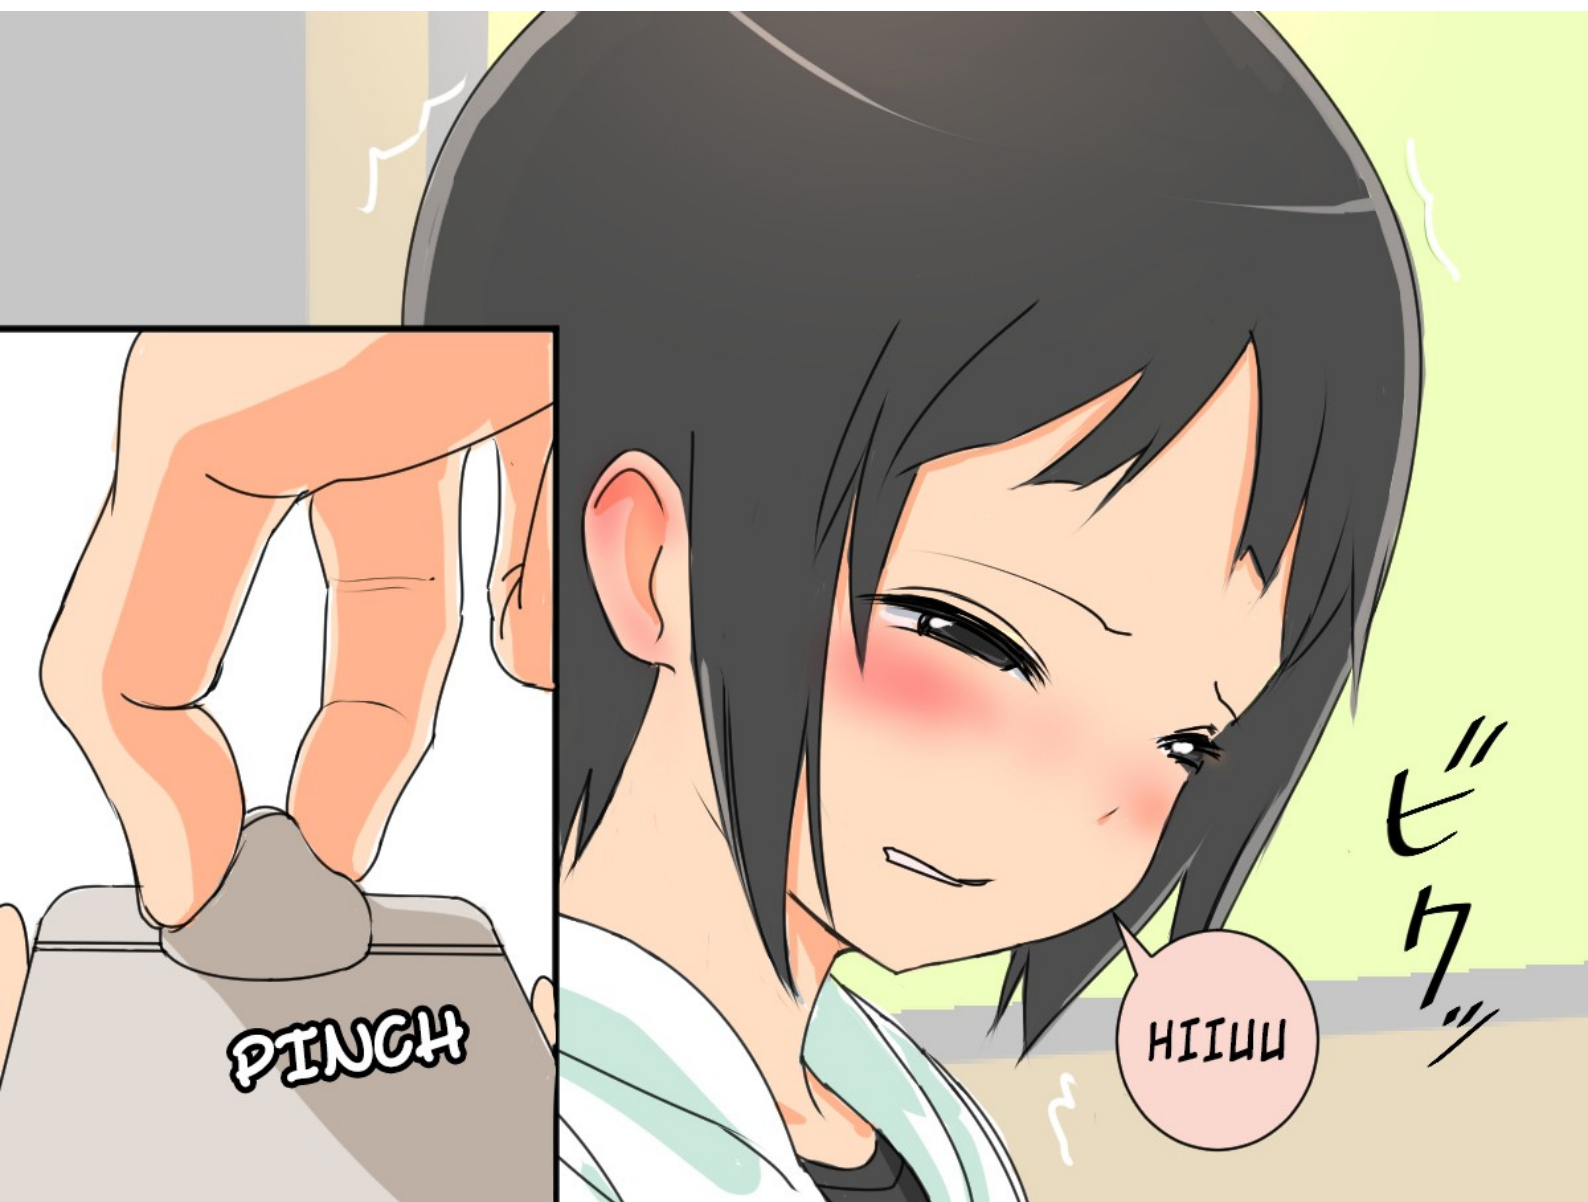

HUH...?

Since I decided to observe the situation without doing anything for some time now, it's clearly shown on the young girl's face that she has regained her composure.

I wonder what will happen if I do this...

I change the way I play with the switch, this time by pinching it a little bit harder.

ROLL ROLL ROLL

I randomly repeat stimulating the young girl and stopping in between while keeping my eyes on her. After observing her reactions, I finally made my conclusion.

Without a doubt, this thing is genuine. It's a great purchase. And so, they live happily ever after. Happy end.

The train begins to decelerate.

We already reach the station? That's regrettable.

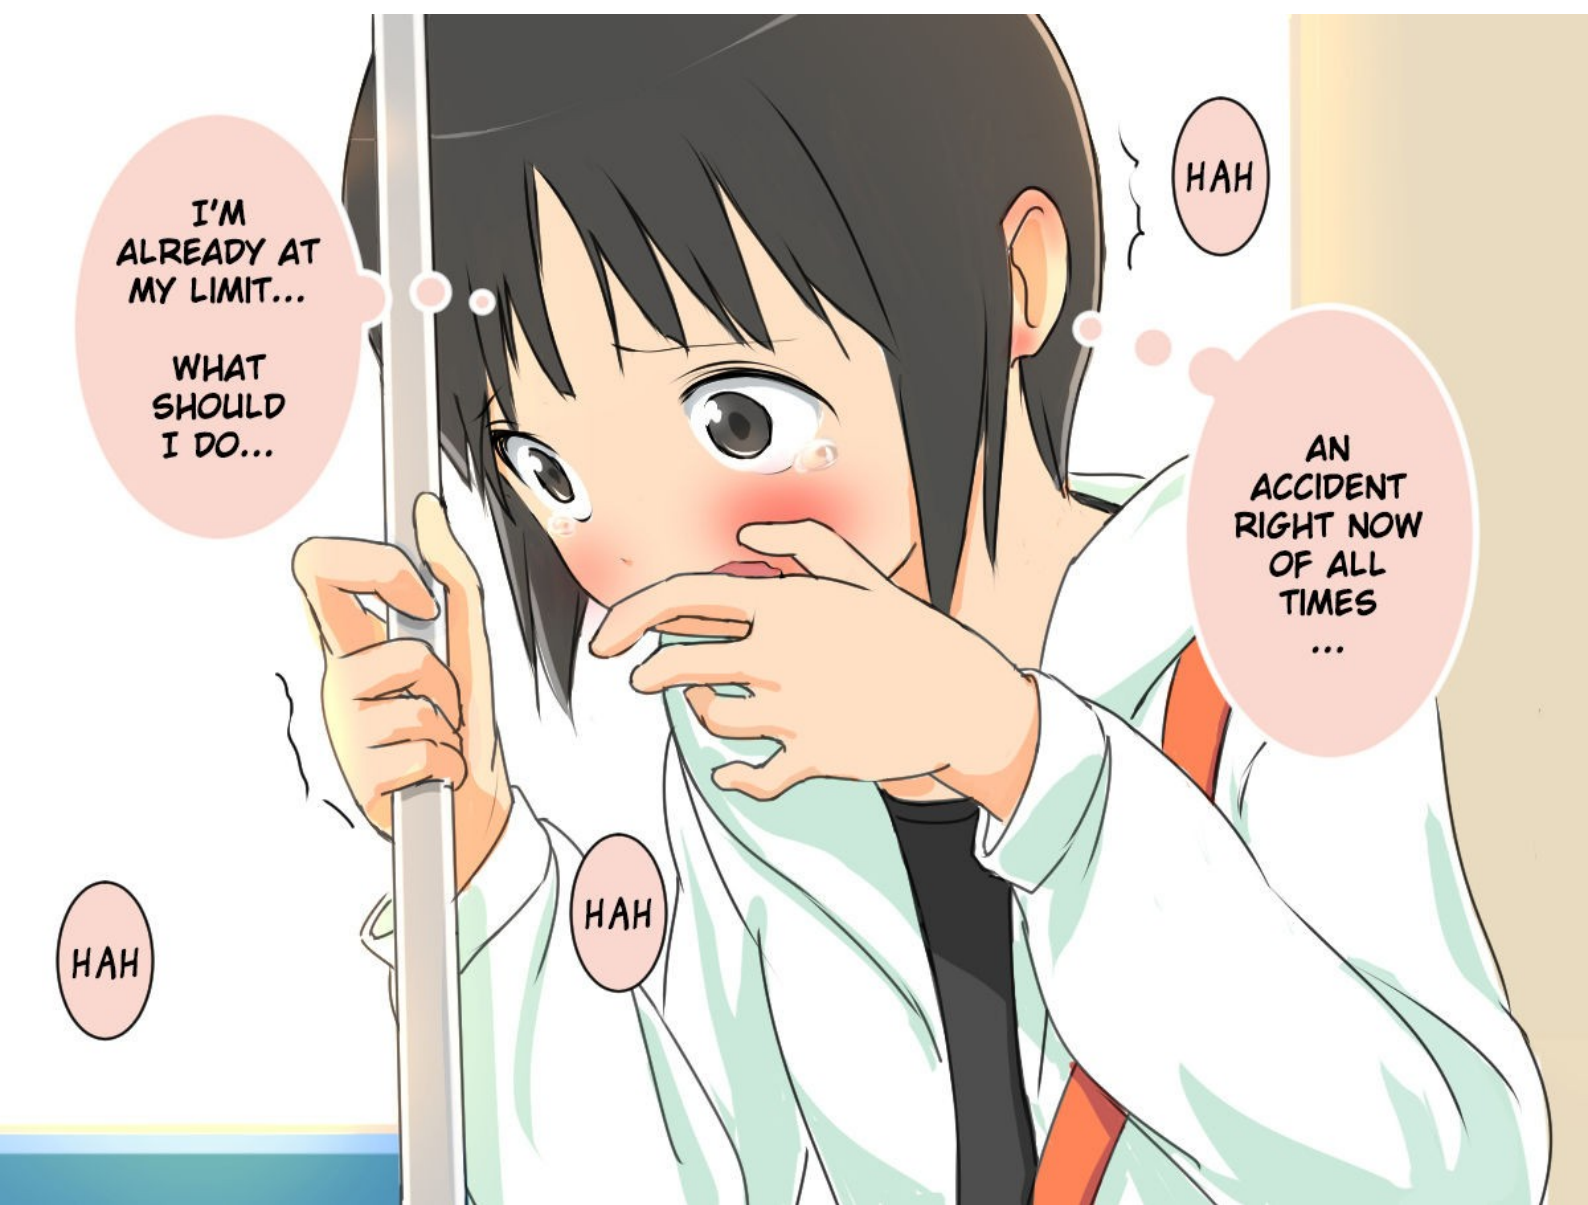

Or so I thought, but when I take a look at the view outside the window, we have yet to reach the next station. Suddenly, an announcement can be heard inside the train coaches.

"We deeply apologize for troubling you when you are in a hurry..."

Apparently, the train service will be delayed for a while due to an accident or something. This is really convenient.

I deeply apologize for troubling you.

As I said that in my mind, I started to fiddle with the switch again.

I'M

The smell of urine fills inside the unmoving train coach. Some of the passengers noticed that something is wrong with the young girl, so they approach her and try to call out to her. However, the young girl was too exhausted that all she can do is panting slowly.

I'm sorry, I was the culprit. The weapon I used was a strange switch.

Mystery solved. Case closed.

Of course I wouldn't reveal myself and surrender.

"Thank you for your patience. We will resume our operation in a short while..."

After the announcement ends, the train starts to move. I let the good Samaritans to help the young girl while I get off the train. Standing on the station's platform, I was thinking of how far I have come now. I feel like I have made some sort of achievement. If it is not because of this weird switch in my hand, I think that everything will be just a dream.

I almost forgot. I slide the target locking switch to cancel the synchronization.

Thank you for your hard work. Well then, where and who should I use this on next?

Is what I thought when I left.

The end.
